PARADISE LOST

A Survivor's Guide:
Adjusting to future heights of sustainability in elevated circumstances of paradise

Welcome home,

The World has gone through immense trauma & Earth is fighting back. From an urbanised & industrial cityscape teeming with artificial colour & manmade materials; wilderness is returning. We in tandem are looking towards the future of modern drinking through the lens of Mother Nature.

You hold in your hands the end product of this futurist thought, the user manual for Paradise Lost - the learnings of a new world, where we eat & drink local and fight to reset the environment.

Don't be afraid; use this handbook for inspiration throughout your stay. Rest reassured we are learning from past mistakes. We strive to eliminate the need for single use glass, committed to minimal waste plastic eco-practises & developed a network of hyper local producers.

We welcome you to our sanctuary; please sit back, turn on, tune in and drop out, you're in safe hands.

WELCOME YOU MADE THE RIGHT CHOICE

Survival is a journey.

APPENDICES

PARADISE LOST ETHOS

We're not perfect, but the Paradise Lost team continuously strive to find new and innovate ways to be helpful to the environment, partner with local artists & producers and help to reduce our carbon footprint. We have aligned ourselves with some thought leaders in their respective industries and we want to give them a bit of love and a shout out here:

ecoSPIRITS: The world's first low carbon, low waste spirits distribution technology. ecoSPIRITS is an innovative closed-loop distribution system that early eliminates packaging waste in the premium spirits supply chain. Wherever you see this little symbol next to a cocktail, you can be assured the spirits within are helping you to reduce your own personal carbon footprint, whilst maintaining an elevated standard of quality.

Sonite Surfaces: bio-composite décor, these impressive service accessories are crafted from up to 40% local rice husk waste, they have transformed unwanted materials into beautiful new accessories of high value and notable substance. Husk bio-composite objects are made from locally discarded rice husks and individually hand-coated for strength and durability.

Bope: Based in Chang Mai, the team consisting of Terh & Bo take discarded plastics and breathe eye-catching & functional life back into them. It's a simple process – take some waste – shred – heat & mould – but creates an amazing look, texture and finish. Pieces that have an ethereal look to them and that feel equally at home as a major art installation or a coaster for your drink.

Decoramix: A local Bangkok stoneware company that we have worked with to design our iconic bartender mixing vessel. Using a design picked out in conjunction with our head bartender, we get them made in the nearby workshop with some of the staff even getting their hands dirty and helping out in the manufacture process.
